NEW YORK, Aug. 31 .- To-day New York finds the Asiatic plague at her gates. The Steamship Moravia of the Hamburg Prived at Quarantine this morning. She had twenty-two deaths on board during the passage, which the ship's doctor says were from cholerine. Twenty were of children and two of adults. Thirteen were natives of Poland: five of Prussia, one of Austria and three of Hesse. All were buried at sea. The first death took place

Aug. 19 and the last on Aug. 29; When the health officers boarded the Moravia and made thorough inspection of the passengers they pronounced the cause of death in the stricken cases as true Asiatic cholera. All the emigrants were ordered transferred to Hoffman Island this afternoon. The vessel and cargo will be thoroughly disinfected.

The following are the names of the passengers who died on board the Moravia: F. RUTINSKY, aged 11 months, of Prussia.

F. R. BOLTENBACK, 9 months; Hesse. A. SCHUSSWITZ, 6 years; Poland. LOUIS MATHALKE, 2 years; Hesse. MINDEL MIRRILL, 5 years; Poland.

Dr. Tallmadge insinuated, however, that he believed the crisis had come, and that from this time forward the closest vigilance would be kept at the lower stations down the harbor to prevent the disease getting as near even to the city as those stations.

The boat William Fletcher was sent down for the people on the steamers at quarantine. When the steamboat arrived there the Custom-nouse Inspector refused to let any of the passengers take away their handbags and only 700 of the passengers could take advantage of the permission to come up to the city. The Friesland was released from quarantine at 10:55 a. m. and came up to he her pier at Hoboken, where all her passengers will be landed. The Italia was released at 7 o'clock and came up to her dock in Brooklyn. She was allowed to pass, as her passengers came from non-infected districts.

The White Star steamship Teutonic got into quarantine at 10 c'clock to-day, and will undergo a close inspection before being allowed to go to her dock.

James A. Wright of the International Navigation Co. said that he had received a cablegram from Richardson, Spencer & Co., their agents at Liverpool, saying that United States Consul Herman is cabling to Wash ington that there is no cholera in Liverpool, and that two steamers have departed with consular certificates of health, the ciothing, etc., having been disinfected. Mr. Wright said the company was having great trouble with the authorities, the quarantine commissioners and the health officer of the port, each of whom seems to be working on a different plan, and giving orders to the steamship companies, he said, are willing to do everything that they can to guard against bringing cholera here, and it is in the line of their business, but they cannot be harassed by conflicting orders. The people of the Anchor Line were indignant to-day when they heard that the Friesland was allowed to go to her dock, while their vessel, the Circassia, was kept at the quarantine for several days. They say there has been more cholera from Antwerp, from which the Friesland, came than in Glasgow, the Circassia complained of having their clothing destroyed by the process of disinfection at quarantine. It is said that Dr. Jenkins gave orders that the baggage of the people coming from England, Ireland a Russia, F. Schneiderman, 6 years, and Sara Schneiderman, 3 years, both of Russia.

Two woman passengers were also sick of the same disease, but are now in the hospital on the way to convalescence.

It was impossible to get any but meager facts this afternoon regarding the Moravia's condition. Dr. Jenkins was summoned from the shore when his deputy who first went aboard of her learned of the condition of affairs, and he personally interviewed the ship's physician and officers regarding the disease aboard the ship. The surgeon of the Moravia declared that twenty-two passengers of the ship had undoubtedly died of cholerine and Dr. Jenkins immediately crdered the steamer off shore, giving Capt. Thiele, her commander, instructions to anchor off Hoffman Island and to remain there until he received further orders.

After the doctors left the steamer she weighed anchor and immediately returned to the lower bay, a yellow flag, indicating that she had contagion

NO DOUBT ABOUT THE DISEASE. WASHINGTON, D. ON WATCH AT SOUTHERN PORTS. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31.-Quarantine officers at Galveston, Tex., have wired the Treasury officials here that an immigrant steamer with several hundred Russian and German immigrants aboard had and German immigrants aboard had cleared Antwerp bound for that port. They asked for instructions, and were told to send the vessel to Grandeleur in the Gulf of Mexico, where quarantine facilities are greater. The Southern ports generally are alarmed lest the cholera be introduced into some one of their ports for lack of proper quarrantine arrangements. The appropriations for this purpose are very limited and little could be accomplished unless the President exercised the power given him in case of a threatened epidemic of cholera or yellow fever and use the unexpended balance of the sum appropriated for the same in the sundry civil appropriation bill.

London, Aug. 31.-There is no denying the fact that the people of England are beginning to be nervously apprehensive that, despite the quarantine regulations at the various ports, the country is doomed to That the quarantine regulations at present cholera has been abundantly proved, and many persons claim that the only effectual method to keep the disease at bay is to absolutely prohibit all intercourse with infected ports abroad. Of course, this would entail an immense money loss and considerable

Britain is of paramount importance. A large proportion of the people, not only in England, but elsewhere, believe that the approaching autumn, with its cool weather and frosts will check, if not eradicate the disease should it become epidemic, but a high authority has pointed out that this belief is erroneous. Prof. J. O. Afflick, M. D., medical examiner at the University of Edinburgh; has declared in an article on cholera written by him, that in general high temperature favors the development of the disase, but that some of the most severe epilemics known have raged with the greatest fury in winter. This being the case it will be seen that there can be no relaxation of the quarantine and sanitary regulations for a considerable time to come.

one of the chief points of communication beween England and the continent, and which has continual intercourse by steamboats with Calais and Boulogne, France. Three persons have been attacked with choleraic isorder at Dover, and one of them has died. It is not positively asserted that the disease is Asiatic cholera, but the presumption is that

There is deep indignation felt at the health officers for allowing the passengers to land last Saturday from the steamer Pelligrini quarters of London. The dangerous character of the disease and the inefficiency of an examination to show whether the people from infected ports carry the infection with them is shown in this case. These dispatches announced yesterday that two cases had appeared in the city road, they being passengers from the Pelligrini. This morning one of the patients died and now his wife and child have been seized with the disease. The district into which the infection has been carried is filled with an im mense population. Overcrowding is a fruitful source for the spread of the disease, and it is believed that it will require every aid known to science to prevent the disease spreading. The people of the district are loud in their denunciation of what they term the happy go-lucky methods of the health authorities, and declare that if absolute prolibition of immigration had been enforced the disease would not have appeared in Lon-

The infection continues to spread sure slowly but it is feared sure ly.

have been watching the cases of the four Russian emigrants who were attacked yesterday with a suspicious sickness while waiting to go on board a steamer for the United States have officially declared that the disease from which they were suffering is true Asiatic cholera. The announcement has aused considerable excitement here. The authorities are doing everything possible to prevent the spread of the disease, but now that it has gained a foothold in the town it is feared by the residents that it will spread in

It is not known what action will be taken in regard to the bills of health issued to transatiantic steamers, but it is thought here that if extraordinary precautions are not taken by the health authorities at the various American ports the army of emigrants sailing hence for America will be the means of the introduction of the disease in ingen, ninety-two miles northeast of Amstertbat-country. Here as in other places in England where cholera has appeared there is a short time. THE WORST EPIDEMIC THAT EVER VISITED

HAMBURG, Aug. 81.-There is no questioning the fact that the present cholera epidemic is the worst that has ever visited this city and

alc was abating in violence, the number of deaths and new cases for Monday be ing below that of the day preceeding. fortunately this was not the case.

It was only a temporary halt in the onward march of the plague, and now it is again marching forward mowing down its victims by the score. A fearful feeling of apprehension the whole city, and the belief that the doctors are helpless to fight the scourge grows in strength. The people feel that they are helpless in the face of the terrible visita tion that has come upon them and many helpless in the face of the terrible visitation that has come upon them and many of them have given hope of escaping the disease. This is itself, is one of the essential factors in fighting the disease. The representative of the press here has seen in the military drill shed the bodies of 400 victims awaiting burial.

Owing to red tape it is impossible to bury all the dead under the usual regulations, for the law requires the production of papers of identification before the body is consigned to the grave. Under ordinary circumstances these papers are easily procurable, but now when whole families have been carried off by the scourge the greatest difficulty is experienced in getting the papers. Unless the frightful mortality abates it will be necessary to shortly set aside the law and bury the victims as hastily as possible. Already it is believed that the infection has been spread by the dead. Bitter imprecations are heaped upon the authorities for their pig-headedness in letting the victims lie unburied to scatter the contagion among the living while they hunted for papers to show the age, occupation, etc., of the dead persons. A reign of terror prevails and every person who can possibly do so is fleeing from the city. An exception must be made, however, to this assertion. Those whose duty calls them to attend the sufferers, physicians and those who have nobly volunteered their services are doing a work that requires the extreme of heroism. Among the hospitals everywhere where they can help they take their lives in their hands without hope of fame or reward, and do their utmost to alleviate the awful suffering of the plague stricken victims.

The registrars, who record the deaths in the city, will keep their offices open until 10 o'clock every night.

During the twenty-four hours ended at milonisht hast night the ambulances conveyed to the hospital 558 patients. Of this number 258 have since died.

As yet there is nothing like a panicky feeling in Berlin. Probably not a hundred persons have left the city on a

suffering, but it is claimed that on occasions like the present the question of financial loss mindight last night the ambulances conveyed to the hospital 50s patients. Of this number 26s have since died.

As yet there is nothing like a panicky feeling in Berlin. Probably not a hundred persons have left the city on account of the threatened danger, and the city officials tried, as did their colleagues in Hamburg, to conceal the fact that Asiatic cholera is threatening the whole population. This policy, if persisted in, will induce the same general mistrust as in Hamburg. The Emperor became convinced that several cases of the worst type had been found, and he issued an order that the city government must send out bulletins twice daily concerning the progress of the disease. He feels that Berlin, as one of the cleanest and best-drained cities of Europe, has little to fear from the cholera if the people be properly warned and instructed how to fight it. One of the duties of the sanitary authorities, therefore, will be to have brought to the notice of every householder the best approved measures for disinfection of houses and treatment of patients before medical help can be summoned. Upon the householders then will rest the responsibility of communicating the measures for their families and tenants. The suggestion that prayers for the abatement of the disease be ordered officially throughout Prussia has been vetoed by the Emperor.

Two deaths have foccurred at the Moabit Hospital from cholera and there are twenty-four suspected cases in Berlin and two at Charlottenburg. Sanitary precautiohs are unabated. There is a great public anxiety but no panic. is of little consequence and that the question

ANTWERP, Aug. 31 .- A report that has just been issued by Prof. Ermingen, the bacteriologist at the Ghent University, places the Scheldt Board of Health in a rather awkward from Hamburg. These passengers were care- position. The board announced a few days fully examined, and as no symptoms of cholera were shown they were allowed to go ashore, with the result that they have introduced in this city. Consequently it decided to issue in this city. Consequently it decided to issue clean bills of health to shipping as usual. Prof. Ermingen was directed to examine the excreta of persons suffering from the disease in Antwerp, and the results of his examinations are embodied in his report, which states that there is no doubt that the disease is the genuine Asiatic cholera.

INCREASING AT ST. PETERSBURG. St. Petersburg, Aug. 31 .- Cholera is subsiding at Nijni Novgorod, and has quite ceased at Kosloff. Thanksgiving services were held in the hurches of the latter place because of the cessation of the scourge. The disease seems pessation of the scourge. The disease seems obe steadily on the increase, however, in St. Petersburg. The official statistics show that the mortality from cholera has been greatest in the Caucasus and the country of the Cosacks. Up to the 22d of August, the total number of deaths throughout the Russian empire is given at 107,647, but owing to the known incompleteness of the official statistics, the real number may safely be reckoned as high as 150,000. as high as 150,000.

Two fugitives from Hamburg have died from cholera at a hotel in Bollenback, Bohemia, a short distance over the frontler from Saxony. The victims were hastening mome by rall when the symptoms developed.

IN ITALIAN TOWNS. ROME, Aug. 31.-Sporadic cases of cholera have occurred in Naples, Venice and Genoa. The patients have been isolated and the pub-lic have not become alarmed. There has been improved sanitation in the various Italian towns since the epidemic of 1887, and it is hoped that this will have the effect of staving off the disease. It is stated that a man named McCarthy, a house wrecker living in Fitter lane, died in a hospital to-day of Asiatic cholera.

RUN ITS COURSE. TEHERAN, Aug. 31 .- The cholera in this city has apparently run its course, and the epidemic is now decreasing. The deaths from the disease yesterday amounted to 200. This is a high mortality, but it is a decrease of $0.0 compared with the deaths reported ten President Harrison to Make a Talking Tour of That Section.

SPEAKING TO THE PEOPLE FROM HIS PALACE CAR.

Desperate Efforts Will Be Made to Prevent a Stampede to Cleveland in the Northwestern States—Wisconsin Democrats in State Convention To-Day—Weaver and Stevenson the Fusion Ticket in South Dakota.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—When it was hinted a few days ago that President Harrison would take the stump in the Northwest, the idea was ridiculed by Republican organs. But after events show that there was good ground for the suggestion. The President may not "take the stump" in the usual way, but the effect, it is hoped by his supporters, will be just as great. The outlook in the Northeast is causing much uneasiness to the President and his managers. Their anxiety has been increased by the announcement that Carl Schurz is to stump that section for the Democratic ticket and this is thought here to be a most important announcement. There is a desira to know, too, what arrangements are on foot to counteract, if possible, the effect of the great German orator's visit among his old friends.

Gen. Schurz lived in Wisconsin when a young man, and first impressed himself on the country when a resident of the State University was been a resident of the great derman orator's visit among his old friends.

Gen. Schurz lived in Wisconsin when a young man, and first impressed himself on the country when a resident of the State University was been increased by the great German orator's visit among his old friends.

Gen. Schurz lived in Wisconsin when a young man, and first impressed himself on the country when a resident of the State University in the core and education of the Government.

The record of the present administration is a sufficient assurance that no relinquishment of the fights of the people against the defaulting treasurers need be leared at the hauds of the several State institution, has a store the action of the people against the defaulting treasurers need be leared at the hauds of the deficiency which except hand the leose of his term a conversion that the president from the cost of his term a general fund of mor noment. The Republicans have nobody to send after Gen. Schurz, and hence there is fresh talk of hat tour through the Northwest for the President, to follow his visit to Chicago in stump," but their desire is that the Presilent make a railroad trip from Chicago through the Northwest, and look at the counry and talk to the people in what they call 'an informal way'' from the rear platform

The arrangements will be fashioned after his Malone trip. The President's friends do not call his address on that occasion a stump to appeal to the old soldiers present on the uestion of pensions, and to declare his faith in a liberal pension policy. His friends here ejoice in the belief that good Republican seeds were sown on that occasion, and they want that feature repeated in the Northwest, where the soldier element is strong.

The probability is that the President will make the trip as the guest of Senator McMillan of Michigan, and while not advertised as such it will be designed to have the effect of a stumping tour.

Another source of anxlety is the attitude of ex-Speaker Reed towards the President. Mr. Reed is now on the stump at home working for Republican success, studiously forbearing to mention the President's name. His contempt for the occupant of the White House is profound and undisguised. He could not be induced to say word in favor of Gen. Hurrison, and what worse, he will not restrain himself in privat onversation from indulging in sarcastic things at the President's expense. In Maine, where Mr. Reed is at home, there are no unhappy effects apprehended from his course out the President's friends here are afraid of the result of such a course elsewhere. Mr. Reed will soon be through stumping at home, and then be ready for outside engagements. He is in great request, and particu-larly in the Southwest, where the desire to hear him is very strong. The President gets pointers from his friends here, as well as from the party managers in New York, and there can be no doubt that all of these things and more have been duly submitted to him.

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 31.—Senator Vest found a magnificent audience when he arose to speak at the Opera-house last night. His speech was a strong one, dealing largely placed in the front rank of national issues. In denouncing the measure he said:

In denouncing the measure he said:

Under it three partisan supervisors in each State, appointed by Republican Federal Judges, can take control of the returns from each Congressional District in every State, throw out any township or rounty, and issue a certificate of election to any congressional candidate. The only redress given to the bythe overwhelming motory to choice of the federal courts, which would never be decided in the rederal courts, which would never be decided in the rederal courts, which would never be decided to the term in controversy had been served out by the man returned as elected. What haleyon days would come back under such law to the old gang of ballot burners who are now yelling for the young men of the state to "stand up for Missouri!" What a revival there would be of the scenes enacted in 1876, when W. D. W. Barnard, after striking from the registration lists of St. Louis 5,700 names, appointed 1,028 deputy marshals, arrested hundreds of the best citizens on the morning of the election and held them until the polls closed, and on the next day walked, booted and spurred, into the Court-nouse, where the State Cauvassing Board was in session, and threatened to arrest them if they did not reject the vote cast in a certain precinct! When Barnard carried his bill of $21,000 for this infamous work to the Republican Actorney General at Washington, Mr. Taft, he swore before a congressional committee that he told this high official, "Thave saved three Republican Congressmen," and the Attorney General as he signed the voucher approvingly remarked, "Yes, you have brought a good deal of sugara on your spade." Let every man who wants this sort of work repeated stand up for Missouri by casting his vote for Harrison and Warner.

col. Dick Dalton and other speakers addressed an overflow meeting at the Courthouse last night. Col. Stone made a strong speech at the park in the afternoon, following the address of Mr. Stevenson. Applications Filed for Bounty by Sugar

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31 .- A statement prepared at the Treasury Department shows that there have been filed during the fiscal year 1893, under the law paying a bounty for sugar production, claims made up as follows: Cane sugar, 649; beet, 6; sorghum, 2; maple, 6,106. Last year the applications aggregated 4,980. The increase in the number of applications is in those producing maple sugar.

St. Louisans Can Guard St. Louis Against Cholera.

EVERY CITIZEN A "SANITARY INSPEC-TOR" IN THE MOVEMENT.

The "Post-Dispatch" Columns Open for Individual Reports of the City's Santtary Condition-Views of City Officials on the Wisdom of Prompt Action Cleanse the Pest-Roles.

Without appearing in the role of an alarmist or as advancing proofs of an existing basis for a "cholera scare" the Post-Dispatch would suggest to the people of St. Louis the wisdom of taking all precautionary steps possible to avoid such a contingency as the Gread Asiatic plague finding fitting material for a foothold in this city.

There is no necessity for grave uneasiness beyond the fact that cholera is known to be steadily advancing westward and that St. Louis lies in its path. There is necessity for such action to be taken in advance as will insure to st. Louisans the feeling of certainty that, should the disease reach St. Louis, it will

From these Eastern seaboard cities the reat transcontinental railway systems are daily sending westward an unceasing stream of immigration and general travel. With cholera brought to doors by steerage passengers of European steamers, it is well within the lines of probability that five days later one of these same steerage passengers would develop the disease in St. Louis, on the direct highway between the Atlantic and Partic. In addition to this menace from the Atlantic seaboard, the city of New Orleans supplies another gate for the entrance of cholera from Europe. St. Louis stands as one of the great objective points for all railroads coming from New Orleans.

A clean city, the thorough stamping out of by steerage passengers of European ets, it is well within the lines of proba-

REPORT TO THE POST-DISPATCH.

The columns of the Post-DISPATCH will be possed for the publication of such reports beginning from to-day. The reports should embrace the known existence of every stagembrace the known existence of every stagmant pond, of every neglected alley or street, of every vacant lot, of every sinknole where it is possible for disease to breed. No private injury from the publication of the evils of private neglect or uncleanliness of houses or yards will be done. Such reported cases will be turned over to the Health Department without publication. But the Post-Disparch solicits from every one of its readers a prompt report of any case coming under their knowledge requiring attention and rectification in the interest of the city's cleanliness and health.

Aske such report, for the good of yourself.

Mayor E. A. Noonan discussed the situation to-day.

"There should be an avoidance of all falarmist' tendency in considering the action to be taken," said he. "This city is in as good, sanitary condition as any city in the world. It is imperative that it be kept in that condition, and if there are any evits existing, of which the Health Department is ignorant, that fact should be known. The Post-Dispatch movement is a good one. It will secure renores of the city that should make it possible to wipe out every existing pest-spot, if there are any such, before cholera has a chance to reach this city in its westward progress."

Health Commissioner Brennan said that such a movement would turn the attention of hundreds of thousands to a subject which was now under charse of the sanitary inspectors alone. It would certainly show if there was any especial increase from choiera spectors alone. It would certainly show if there was any especial increase from cholera offered by the present condition of St. Louis.

Chief sanitary Officer Francis yesterday called attention to the necessity of taking every precaution against cholera. He stated that while St. Louis was in good sanitary condition, there was yet much to be done in this direction. He also named some of the dangerous? districts.

condition, there was yet much to be done in this direction. He also named some of the "dangerous" districts. It is imperative that all the "dangerous districts" be known at once. For the city to make such a canvass within twenty-four hours would entail vast expense. The citi-zens of St. Louis can do it, however, and the Post-Dispatch herewith suggests the send in your "sanitary report." Every report made public lessens just that much the chances of cholera gaining a foothold in St. Louis.

CHOLERA AND CHOLERINE.
The term cholerine, which is used so frequently in the newspaper reports, is one defined in "Qualn's Medical Dictionary" as "a term applied to a class of cases which occur during the prevalence of cholera, in which the milder symptoms of the disease are present."

the milder symptoms of the disease are present. The latest medical authorities say that it is one of the transition stages of cholera. The symptoms are those of a violent and rather sydden cholera-morbus which often begins at night. To this diarrhea which, displays characteristics of prohounced cholera, womiting is seen added. There is great languor and depression. The voice grows weak, the extremities are cool, the pulse is small and accelerated. Painrui cramps occur in the calves of the legs, and the urine becomes scant and albuminous.

The whole attack lasts about a week or two until recovery is complete.
Cholerine bears about the same relation to cholera that varioloid does to small-pox.

A Physician Discusses Cholera.

Dr. James 8. Read of No. 1518 Chouteau avenue this morning gave a Post-Dispatch reporter an interesting short talk on cholera.
"In the first place," said Dr. Read, "the stop the progress of cholera is erroneous. The greatest cholera plazue ever known in Russia occurred in Moscow in the winter and raged there unchecked with the thermometer below zero. It is well to bear this in mind, so that precautions may be taken in winter as well as summer. A good preventive against cholera is the following curious remedy: A pinch of liver of sulphur worn in each shoe. Only the purest water should be drunk during a cholera epidemic. St. Louisans should drink Baicuer water, or failing to get that, should boil all water before drinking. Watermelons do not cause cholera or make a person more liable to be attacked by it. You can eat all the waternelons you want. They may make you sick, but it won't be cholera. I know this through my experience with cholera in 1866. Tobacco hurts no one during a cholera visitation, in fact it seems to be a preventive as no one working in a tobacco factory has stop the progress of cholera is erroneous.

In 1857 Harpers' Weekly was established and Mr. Curtis was made editor. When the civil war broke out the journal took a decided political tone and became an influential organ of the Republican party. In the canvass of 1868 he was made a Presidential elector on the Republican ticket and warmiy supported the election of Gen. U. S. Grant, who in 1871 appointed him a member of the commission to frame rules for the regulation of the civil service. He, however, opposed the candidature of Grant for a third term both in 1876 and 1899 and has been a prominent leader of that wing of the Republican party which secured the nomination of Mr. Hayes and Mr. Garfield. He was in 1867 elected a delegate to the convention for revising the Constitution of the State of New York, and in the same year was appointed one of the Regents of the University of that State, a CAPTURED LA GUAYERA. The foreign residents in the capital of Venezuela are in danger. It is the general opinion that an American war ship is greatly needed in Venezuelan waters. The diplomatic corps in Caracas, with the exception of United States Minister Scruggs, have protested in a body against the destruction of foreign property in Puerto Cabello.

History is made with such speed in these South American republics when revolution is on the wing that it is difficult to keep pace with the march of events. Gen. Eleazer Urdaneta was, when Palacio was chosen President, the third Vice President of Venezuela. After the retirement of Palacio to France two months ago, Dr. Villegas, the first Vice-President, took the reins of government. All of these officials were striving to put down the rebellion led by Gen. Crespo, but a short time since there was established a federation of five of the States of the Republic, known as the Western League, with Urdaneta as chief. Thus a revolt within the lines of the Governmental party was set on which soon proved to be formidable. The people, tired as they are of the milk-and-water policy of the actual Government, seem rather inclined to look with favor upon the accession to power of Urdaneta, who, to say the least of him, is a man of firm convictions, resolute spirit, and, unlike the majority of South Americans, possesses a considerable amount of energy and pluck. called in the First District Police Court this morning Judge Taaffe, who was acting as Prosecuting Attorney, suggested that it be dismissed on payment of costs. Judge Morris asked why it was to be dismissed, and Judge Taaffe answered that it was the wish of the officer who made the arrest that the defendant be let off on costs. His motion was made, he said, on the officer's recommendation. Judge Morris wanted to know why a case should be dismissed on the recommendation of a policeman, and at this officer Tebeau stepped forward and said that he had made the arrest, but had made no recommendation in the case. the arrest, but had made no recommendation in the case.

THE NEW DICTATOR.

Short-Lived.

Great Events Follow Each Other Rapidly in the Republic of Venezuela-Details of Urdaneta's Occupancy of Caracas-The Plan Proposed to Acting President Villegas.

CURACOA, West Indies, Aug. 31 .- The pariculars of Urdaneta's occupation of Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, are now at hand, as well as the details of subsequent events up to the 26th inst. The fall of the city into the hands of the new dictator occurred on the 20th. On his arrival at the capital Urdaneta drove directly to the residence of President Villegas, whose messengers to La Guayera on the previous night had signified his readiness to co-operate with the plans of the Western League, Urdaneta agreed to leave Villegas provided he would appoint a cabinet which would be subservient to the interests of the pala, Gomez, Ferret, Pulido, Castra and Adran. Cijares was to go as Minister to the United States. Monegas and Mendoza would formally accepted the league and acknowledged the dictatorship. Ybarra was given the choice of the Governorship of the Federal District or his former position as Inspector-

General of the Army. At this stage of the negotiations a message came from Monegas at Barcelona protesting against any transfer of power not first indorsed by the Federal Council, and another from Mendoza at Victoria, intimating that if he was left out in the cold he might flop over to Crespo. A meeting of the Council was hurriedly called, but the advocates of the proposition to ratify the foregoing agreement were able to do no better than get a tie vote of five for and five against. Calle arrived shortly afterward with a budget of unwelcome news, including the rebellion against Urdaneta's authority in Zulla, the proclams tion in favor of Crespo by Arrias in Maracaibo, the delivery of the Castillo of San Carlos to the Revolutionists by Leal, the recomnencement of hostilities on Colina at Coro and Aular at Tucacas, and that Mora, with a heavy force from Valencia was attacking Urdaneta's intrenchments at Puerto Cabello. Urdaneta, Sarria, Cassanas, Carbajal and Adran, with the full League force of 1,200

Lake Maracalbo, and Gen. Sarria, commanding the League garrison in the City of Maracalbo, had both declared for Grespo.

Further news came that Gen. Pulgar had arrived on the coast from Curacoa with a large quantity of arms for the Revolution ists. A Dutch steamer arrived in LaGuayera from Puerto Cabello on Aug. 24. She could not land at the latter place, but brought dispatches that Mora had captured the hillside fort and had, with his artillery, brought from Valencia, planted heavy batteries in advantageous positions for returning the cannonading from the Castillo. Many houses had been destroyed and a heavy fire was had been destroyed and a heavy fire was kept up all the time the steamer was in the harbor. Mora's forces had landed twice on the island and attempted to capture the castillo by storm, but in both cases had been repulsed with heavy loss, particularly among the officers. Of the sub defenders of the castillo forty-six were killed or wounded. The defenders were without food or water. The captain of the Dutch vessel sent medicine to the castillo for the use of the wounded.

After Urdaneta left Caracas, Villegas weakened and advised Mendoza to treat with Crespo, and if forced to deliver the presi-

He believes Andueza Palacio was right when he proposed to obliterate existing State lines—wipe the nine sovereign commonwealths, each having its own President, out of existence and restore the former twenty national provinces, each with a Governor, subservient in all things to the will of the chief magistrate of the republic.

He believes the Tenezuelan election system, whereby, the naming of members of the Federal Council or electoral college is placed in the hands of political tricksters, happening to compose the Senate and House of Deputies and the members os chosen left in their turn to gamble between themselves for the Presidency of the Republic, to be in entire discord with the democratic tendencies of the century.

He would have the President, he says, the Presidency of the Republic, to be in entite discord with the democratic tendencies of the century.

He would have the President, he says, thosen by a direct vote of the people, hold for four years and be ineligible to a relection. He would suspend the existing constitution, dissolve Congress and call upon the cities, towns, villages and townships of the Republic to send delegates to a grand national convention, by authority of which he would proclaim a new constitution, more in conformity with modern republican ideas, and under that call at once an election for President, and also to choose a new Congress to meet in January next.

Important Evidence Held Back for the Formal Trial-Bridget Sullivan Has Not Told All She Knew-A Lawyer's Theory of the Tragedy-To-Day's Tes

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 31 .- It is the gen eral opinion this morning that to-day will close the testimony in the Borden case Court came in at 10 o'clock, but Lizzle and her counsel were not in their seats and it was not until ten minutes later that Lizzie appeared, leaning on the arm of Rev. Mr. Jubb, bearing upon her face the same look of stoical indifference which has characterized her appearance heretofore in general.

The State rested their case yesterday, and only unimportant testimony was given for the defense. This morning the first witness called was Marshal Rufus B. Hilliard, who said that his attention was called to the murder at 11:13 a. m. Aug. 4. He sent Officer George W Allen to the house, and did not go to the Interest the house, and did not go to the house hisself until 2:30 or 3 o'clock in the florancon. The next officer sent was boherty, Menley, Gillon, Wilson and others he could not remember. When witness went at 3 o'clock he was the many and interest with the house when and yards in that vicinity, but he knew to had been sent to look after evidence that it is purpose. They want to hold the prisoner. When the case comes to trial string facts will be revealed. When the trials are said they were given to him on what he had been told by Medley and Fleet, and he to house, but has been sent to look after evidence that is the purpose of the interest what. When he arrived there he went to the back of the yard, where the lumber was, by the distinct of the hay in the barn; went into the back of the hay in the barn; went into the back yard where the lumber was, by the Chagmon fence, and looked over into the Chagmon fence, and looked the stalls on the north of the same and under the stall was a the stall was about to clock, and was at the Broda house, and the was a there were any blood spots on the went into the Bouse as house himself until 2:30 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The next officer sent was Doherty, then Mullally, Medley, Gillon, Wil-lor door, but did not notice the chairs; they were blood spots undoubtedly; Mr. Borden's body was then removed from the lounge; then passed into the front entry with Dr. Dolan and into the front room where they said Mrs. Borden's body was found; saw some spots of blood on pillow shams.

It will be recalled by those who have kept track of events in this great murder mystery that a theory has been advanced that Lizzle's marvelous sangfroid before and after the crimes might be the result of guilty knowledge. The lawyer who suggested the theory supplemented it to-day with other conclusions based on the testimony given before Judge Bialsdell. He said: 'Lizzle could hardly have gone through the bloody process of choppink up the heads of her parents without showing agitation during the detailed testimony in court. Lizzle's relations with her parents were evidently not pleasant. She was ill that morning, but she preferred to eat alone and in the kitchen to breakfasting with her parents. 'Her parents did not ask for her. Lizzle sel Jom spoke to the servant girl, but that morning she not only spoke several times to Bridget, but went so far as to do something in the nature of a favor. She moreover asked the girl if she was going to wash the windows. She wanted to locate Bridget and be satisfied that the girl would not be in the house.

''Mr. Borden was out and had not returned house, 'Air, Borden was out and had not returned when Bridget re-entered the house to wash the windows inside. What does Lizzle do then? She suggests something. It was not direct suggestion or advice, but cleverly couched. 'Are you going out to-dny?' she asked. 'Be sure and lock the door,' she continued, 'because I and mother are going out, too.'

tinued, 'because I and mother are going out, too.'

'As the servant was about to go upstairs Lizzle casually remarks that there is to be a bargain sale at one of the stores that day. This was an ingenious ruse to get rid of the servant girl. Bridget went up to her room and the lather was killed.

'What happened then? Lizzle called Bridget down. The daughter who had just looked at the murdered body of her father was not agitated. She was not crying or wringing her hands. She was leaning against the back door. Bridget could not open and look out of the door with Lizzle standing there.

look out of the door with Lizzie standing there.

"Bridget did not know where Lizzie was when she was washing the windows from the outside. She did not see her until after Mr. Borden came in. Then Lizzie appeared from the sitting-room. She did not come down from up-stairs by the front stairs, because Bridget would then have seen her. She came down the back stairs, which the servant had never seen her use. Was this because to take the other she must have seen the body of her step-mother lying there in the room which faced them? If Lizzie had come down those stairs she could not afterwards have told her father or Bridget that her mother had gone out.

stairs she could not afterwards have told her father or Bridget that her mother had gone out.

"Was the murderer there concealed in Lizzle's room? Having located her father and Bridget by standing so she could see him as he came in and watch her as she returned to the windows, she deemed it prudent to go down the back stairs, and see that the coast on that side of the house was clear. Her father had then gone downstairs, and to prevent awkward questions and a possible search, she told him that her mother had gone out.

"Bringing her ironing with her she places herself in the dining room where she can keep track of her father and Bridget. The ironing is continued until Bridget goes up in the attic. Then Lizzle suddenly concludes to go out into the yard. The murderer seizes his opportunity. The deed is done. Lizzle comes back and gives the alarm, standing guard at that rear door through which the murderer must have passed. There is the case as developed by the evidence given in court.

"I do not believe that Bridget has told all she knows. Everything she said was drawn out by a question and she was evidently obeying instructions to confine her replies to these points. This is because the hearing is only preliminary, and the prosecution does not propose to give away its case and allow.

Incidents of the Journey From the Mountains-The National Head in a Jaunty Crush Hat-Chairman Carter and Son Russell in the Rain-A Plunge Into Politics.

New York, Aug. 31.—President Harrison arrived in this city this morning and left again without more than a half-dozen people being able to get a sight of him. It required ordering to accomplish the feat, but it was

It was first announced that the President's private car would be switched from the New York Central train at Mott-Haven and proceed from there to White Plains. The train was to arrive at 7 a. m., and at that hour there were a dozen newspaper men at the Mott-Haven Station and a number of citizens awaiting the arrival of the President. The railroad officials suddenly announced that the President's car would be cut out at the Grand Central Depot instead of at Mott-Haven. They showed an order to that effect, and in accordance with it sent an engine down to the Grand Central to bring the President's car back. Shortly after the field had thus been cleared, Chairman Carter and Russell Harrison were seen picking their matter. and Russell Harrison were seen picking their way gingerly among the interlaced tracks be-

It was raining and Russell Harrison carried over Mr. Carter's head. At the signal-box, half a mile above the station, they stopped and climbed into the signal-box out of the rain. Mr. C. W. Tyson, Whitelaw Reid's private secretary, joined the party a big traveling bag. All for another half hour, while a dispatch was sent to the Grand Central Depot. Finally the answer came to fiag the President's train at that point, and let the party aboard. This preliminary disposed of the little procession, headed by Chairman Carter, left the signal box, and, winding among the tracks, took their stand at the curve just beyond where the New York Central and New Haven trains intersect. The President's car was expected on the second section of train No. 12 over the Central. The train was nearly two hours late, and while they waited the last five minutes or so of the time Chairman Carter turned up his coat collar against the rain and made facetious remarks about the patent medicine signs that diversified the landscape in the neighborhood. The train eventually came in sight and slowed up for the party. "I guess I had better send in a card," Mr.

Carter ventured. "No, no; come right in," Russell Harrison Insisted, and ushered the party into the President's car, where he and his companions sat at breakfast around a table glistening with white and blue china and silver. The President, afrer the usual greetings, retired into his private apartment with Messrs. Carter and Harrison. The others of the party, Mr. -Halford and G. F. Tibbitts, remained in the dining-room with Mr. Tyson. Mr. Tibbitts explained that they had made but one stop on the way down, where there were a number of people and a brass band waiting them. The President spoke a few words from the car platform, but made no attempt at anything like a speech. He kept carefully away from politinal topics throughout his remarks, as he did during the trip.

When the train reached the station Mr. G. M. Pullman, the parlor car potentate, left his own car, which was just behind the Presi-dent's car, and came to pay his respects to President Harrison.

After Mr. Pullman left the President sat in one corner of his apartment in close co tation with Mr. Carter and Mr. Russell Har-rison alternately. He seemed quite inter-ested in what he had to say and sat on the edge of his chair with his hands on his knees and leaned forward slightly. He wore a black frock suit and a small black crushed hat that gave the dignified head of the nation a jaunty air in spite of his serious face.

The train remained at the station scarcely more than five minutes, while the crowd surged around the platform apparently oblivious to the fact of the President being there, or more likely entirely ignorant of it. One or two endeavored to get a glimpse of the President through the car winlow as he sat with his head close to Mr. Carter's. Shortly after 90'clock the President's ter's. Shorty after 30 clock the Freshent's car was detached from the train and fastened to the empty day coach. Engine No. 1,103, in charge of Engineer G. H. Allett, who had been sent down for the special, was then attached, and the train swung out. The start was made at 9 o'clock, and no stops were made until White Plains was reached. There Whitelaw Reid drove over from his Mr. Whitelaw Reid drove over from his country home at Ophir Farm at 8 o'clock this morning. When Mr. Reid's carriage rolled up to the station a large number of citizens of West Plains were there to greet him. Mr. Reid was very affable. He was informed that the President's train was somewhat late and would arrive about 10 o'clock. During the wait Mr. Reid conversed with the reporters and said that he had not yet written his letter of acceptance. He said that there would be no formal reception to the President at Ophir Farm, and that he had issued no special invitation to any one to be present during the stay of President Harrison. The President's letter of acceptance will not be given out here.

Mr. Platt is here to call at Ophir Farm and

Mr. Platt is here to call at Ophir Farm and pay his respects to the President. The train on the Harlem road was due here at 9:50, and having President Harrison's car attached, arrived here at about that time. The President was accompanied by his son, Chairman Carter, Mr. Tibbits, Secretary Halford, Gen. 'homas and Hon. William Brookfield. When the President stepped from his car he was cordially greeted-by Mr. Reid. The President was quickly surrounned by a large number of White Piains citizens who were anxious to shake hands with him. The President looked in good health and seemed in excellent spirits. He got into Mr. Reid's carriage, and the two candidates rode side by side to Ophir Farm. The other gentlemen of the President's party rode in another carriage.

The ostensible purpose of the President's visit is to give out his letter of acceptance. But as that could be done just as well at Loon Lake it is hardly necessary for the President to take a journey of 300 miles to do it.

The President, it is said, desires to confer with Mr. Reid and the members of his National Committee about his letter of acceptance changes, it is believed, may be made in the letter after his conference in this city. The Mr. Platt is here to call at Ophir Farm and treatment of the Force bill issue by the President in his letter is giving the Republican leaders some anxiety. Many of them, particularly the members of the old Blaine guard, think that the President should say very little on this subject. They do not believe that the agitation of the Force bill will help the Republican cause in the North, and will certainly destroy their chance of carrying and of the Southern States. Others, however, hold that the President cannot afford to ignore this issue, that the party is committed to it and it will be fatal to drop it now. Mr. Reld is said to be in favor of the latter course.

There will be no reception to the President

mitted to it and it will be fatal to drop it now. Mr. Reid is said to be in favor of the latter course.

There will be no reception to the President at the Union League Club during his stay if the wishes of the Republican State Committee are respected. The committee is opposed to it almost to a man. This is not a swallow-tail campaign, they say, and any reception of the character that would be given by the Union League Club would be out of place.

The President's intended visit to this city was the principal topic among the Republican politicians around the hotels last night. The majority construed it to mean that he had at last come down from his high horse and was disposed to play a little practical politics with a view of bringing all the factions of the Republican party together. During the President's stay of two days as Mr. Reid's guest he will see all of the Republican leaders, including Mr. Platt. In fact, they will be invited to call on him.

In 1880, when Garfield came to this city at the suggestion of Stephen W. Dorsey, he held a private reception at the Fifth Avenue Hotel at which all the Republican leaders were present except Mr. Conkling. Mr. Conkling declined to meet Mr. Garfield then, but was subsequently persuaded to go out to Mentor to see him. The Fifth avenue conference, however, was the means of bringing the Republican party in this State into line for Garfield. It is believed that the motive behind the President's visit this week is to have a conference similar to the Garfield conference of 1880.

Despite all the assertions to the contrary, the Republican leaders in this State are not the Republican in the State are not the contrary.

self to elect Mr. Harrison was quite another matter.
This is about the situation as regards Mr. Platt's position: The President's friends, those who were authorized to speak for him, said that he could not treat with Mr. Platt so long as he remained in an attitude of apparent hostility toward him. They told Mr. Platt that he must first come out and declare himself—that the President was disposed to do "the right thing," but he would not move until Mr. Platt made an official declaration of his intention of supporting the ticket. Mr. Platt was urged to come out in an interview commending the President. This he refused to do, although he did finally consent to show himself at headquarters and let it thus be known that he would support the Republican ticket. This compromise, it is understood, was accepted by Mr. Harrison's representatives, and acquiesced in by the President when he is understood, was accepted by Mr. Harrison's representatives, and acquiesced in by the President when he found that he could not do any better. The President is now coming here to hold an interview with Mr. Platt and all the Republican leaders. There is no doubt that the result of this interview will be satisfactory to the friends of Platt and Miller. The President's friends have given assurances of that in advance. Mr. Platt and Mr. Miller are to be recognized as the leaders of the G. O. P. in this may to the exclusion of all others. Their word will "go" on all matters relating to the party management in this State, particularly with reference to removals and appointments in the Federal service.

The Boston career of the Frenchman C. G. C. Byron Dumas, who was arrested here last Saturday, is said to have been very disastrous to many persons. After being released last April from the South Boston Institute, he became a language teacher and by his accomplishments and attractive manners gained an entrance to many fashionable families. He made love to the governesses it is alleged and from them he is said to have borrowed sums from $150 to $200 which he never returned. On one occasion Dumas learning that a Mr. Tuckerman had a house to sell, borrowed the keys from Mr. Tuckerman, it is averred, implying that he might buy it. He then showed the house to several friends whom he informed, it is claimed, that he bought it for $28,000. On the strength of this he is said to have borrowed several small sums. The total amount of his borrowings is alleged to be about $3,400. he became a language teacher and by his accomplishments and attractive manners

VICTORIA, British Columbia, Aug. 31.-The merican bark Majestic reached here last vening having on board the captains and crews of four sealing schooners flying the British flag, and the American schooner C. H. White of San Francisco.' These four were sealing off Copper Islands, between forty and fifty miles, during the latter part of July, when the Russian warship Zabraka, mount ing sixteen guns, and the fur company' steamer Kodiak, bearing the Governor of Behring's Island, rounded them up one, sent the schooners to be sold at Petropoaulovski and made the captain and crew prisoners. The former objected to the seizure, claiming they were free men on free waters, whereupon the marines pricked them with the points of their bayonets and informed them that there was such a place as Siberia for those who spoke too loudly of freedom, Both the British and American skippers recognized that it was no time for talking. Still they ventured to protest that they were away outside the three-mile limit. and were met with the astounding information from the officers of the Zabraka: "Russia is sovereign over the water a thousand miles from her shores."

The captain of the Russian cruiser based his action on the ground that Russia exercised jurisdiction over all land and water westward of the line of demarkation.

After being taken aboard the Zabraka, the a paper written in Russian and explained by the interpreter as an acknowledgement that he had been sealing in Russian waters. The skippers protested, and were told that those who did not sign would be sent to Vladivo stock to be courtmartialed and then sent to the Siberian mines. Under compulsion the Captains signed and they and the crews then underwent a taste of Russian prison life, twenty-one men being kept for days in a room il feet by 11, with a leaky roof and broken floor. The men were finally turned out on the beach, and, the Majestic coming that way, a contract was entered into for transportation to American or British soil, and, in the evening, the prisoners were shipped away on board, no particular effort being made by the guards to detain. The Majestic sailed at night and next morning the Zabraka started out on another hunting cruise, the schooners being the game sought Peffer's Predictions. MONMOUTH, Ill., Aug. 31 .- Senator Peffer of Kansas is revisiting this city, where he resided thirty years ago. He stated that he believed that the People's party would this year throw the election into the House of Representatives, and would carry the country in 1896.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate For the Tired Brain

It's ine ective, except for the moment—the ordinary pill. Because it upsets your whole internal economy, you needn't think it's doing you good. It only shocks and weekens your system. Take something that's better. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do good that lasts. They regulate the system, as well as cleanse and renovate it; mildly and gently, but thoroughly and effectively—no griping, no violence. They're the smallest and the easiest to take, purely vegetable, perfectly the smallest and the easiest to take, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and the best liver pill ever known. Only one little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick or Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved and cured.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Can you ask better proof of the superiority of these little pills.

CRIME NEWS.

Mysterious Death of L. B. McWhorter

Still Unexplained. FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 31.—The mystery surrounding the assassination of L. B. McWhorter is still impenetrable. No new developments have occurred and the people are beginning to fear the assassins may be able to make their escape. The friends of deceased are determined to spare no expense in hunting down the assassins and the reward fund has been augmented by $1,000. More contributions will be made. The rewards will probably aggregate $15,000. There is good reason to believe that a man with a gunshot wound in the hand, who was arrested Monday night and is now in jail, though the statement is denied at the sheriff's office, was connected with the crime. The indignation of the people has not subsided and there is talk of organizing a vigilance committee to drive the criminal element out of town. The funeral of McWhorter took place this morning and was a large one. The Coroner's inquest will take place this afternoon. has been augmented by $1,000. More contri-

Johnson to summon 108 jurors from which to select a panel. This will be accomplished by 40'clock this afternoen and the trial will come up to-morrow. Dennis has the following well-known attorneys to defend him: Col. S. G. A. Watson, A. Harrington, George Penerding, and C. R. Harrington, George Pepperding and C. B. Sharp. The case will be the hardest ever fought in this county.

SENSATIONAL MURDER DEVELOPMENTS. Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 31.—Two years ago Southwestern Kansas was startled by the murder of Frazier and Gibson, two cattle owners of Chautauqua County. The mystery of their deaths is now in a fair way of being of their deaths is now in a fair way of being solved and the arrest yesterday at Sedan, Kan., of Jerry Hutton and Frank Kimsey, two farmers of the county, is said to be the beginning of a sensation. These men are prominent in the Farmers' Alliance, and it is charged that the murders of Gibson and Frazier were plotted at a secret meeting held by members of that organization. Twelve more arrests will be made within a few days.

ATTACKED BY ITALIANS. SHENANDOAH, Pa., Aug. 31.-Because two of them were discharged the Italians working on the Pennsylvania Railroad extension at William Penn colliery attacked Contractor Robert McAdams and Foreman Gillan, beating them with clubs, picks and shovels and would have undoubtedly killed the bosses had not some miners gone to their rescue. McAdams' head and shoulders are a mass of bruises and gashes and his recovery is not certain. Mr. Gillan is badly bruised. The assailants have disappeared.

FOSTER GANG DEPREDATIONS SOMERSET, Ky., Aug. 31 .- A sheriff's posse In Wayne County yesterday started out to arrest members of the Foster gang near Steubenville. COAL CREEK RIOTERS JAILED. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 31,-Twenty-six prisoners were brought here last night under military guard from Coal Creek. They have been held by Justice Kinkaid as participants in the Coal Creek ricts. They could not give bond and are brought to jail here for safe-keeping. The opinion grows that it will be difficult to convict anyone in Anderson County.

POST-OFFICE ROBBED. DONIPHAN, Mo., Aug. 31 .- The safe in the post-office at this place was blown open last night. About $70 in money was stolen, also a lot of stamps. The postmaster's private pocket-book, containing $97, and the only registered letter were overlooked. The work appears to be that of a professional. DUG UP THE PLUNDER. VISALIA, Cal., Aug. 31.—Detectives yester-day visited the house of Chris Evans, one of the Collis train-robbers, and dug up on the premises two bags of silver, containing about 1.500. Evans and Sontag are still at large. ORIME BREVITIES. Abner Futrell of Hopkinsville, Ky., has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment or shooting his brother, Cullen Futrell.

The negroes residing at Paragould, Ark., have been given orders to leave town. They are up in arms and trouble is expected. Frank Rooks of Atlanta, Ga., was treated on a coat of tar and feathers yesterday for nnoying the wife of one of his employes. In a dispute over politics in Warren County, Ga., yesterday Jim Gresham was tilled and a man by the name of Collins was langerously wounded.

Carroll Morris, while walking in the woods near Clarksville, Tenn., found a baby nearly dead. The child belongs to a Mrs. Powers, who will answer for the crime in the courts saturday. John Jossey waited in ambush yesterday near Forsyth, Ga., and when Lulu Butler, a colored school-teacher, passed he attempted to make her consent to marry him. She gave an alarm and a lot of negroes riddled Jossey with bullets.

Ready for the Campaign.

The St. Louis Republican League Club had a well attended meeting last night at 206 North Broadway. Thomas K. Niedinghaus presided and addresses were made by National Committeeman R. C. Kerens, C. P. Walbridge, George D. Reynolds, Ex-Gov. E. Waibridge, George D. Reynolds, Ex-Gov. E. O. Stanard, F. G. "Niedinghaus, Isaac M. Mason and Recorder W. A. Hobbs. The club will have charge of the work of the League clubs and it will have much to say concerning the management of the campaign in this city. The City Central Committee will, it is understood, register an emphatic protest if the club attempts to take too much authority out of its hands.

Trying for Arkansas.

The People's party is making a desperate effort to carry the State of Arkansas, and Mr. Taubeneck of the National Execu-Committee is of the opinion that the State is lost to the Democracy. Gen. Weaver speaks to high at Paragould and Gen. Field at Hot Springs. Besides the presidential and vice-presidential nominees of the People's party working for the electoral vote of that State, forty speakers advocating the reform movement are advertised at various places in the State to address the voters. "We are after reansas in earnest," said Mr. Taubenecs, "and I have no fear but what it will fall in line with several other Southern States and the silver several other Southern States and the silver States that are in sympathy with our move-

North Missouri Campaign. To morrow the Democratic State canvass will be formally opened for North Missouri with a big rally at Hannibai. The speakers will be Col. W. J. Stone, Senator Vest, Col. Dick Dalton and Congressman W. H. Hatch. The meeting will commence in the afternoon in the City Park and will continue through the evening. Extensive arrangements have been made to make it an imposing affair.

Political Notes.

The Democratic City Central Committee was in session nearly an hour last evening at 919 Olive street. Chairman Lutz presided and C. L. Hoblitzelle of the Registration Committee submitted a report showing the progress of this work. The City Committee is working quietly and effectually to secure a thorough registration of all the Democrats in the city.

The Sixth Ward Democratic Club will meet to-night at Eleventh and Branch streets. Congressman John J. O'Neill, Judge Congress the meeting and other speakers will address the meeting.

Claiborne, Ben Clark and other speakers was address the meeting.
The Waiters' Democratic Club met in the Business Men's Democratic Club rooms at seventh and Olive streets last evening and listened to speeches from John C. Wilkinson and Breck Jones. At its next meeting the club will be addressed by Congressman John J. O'Neill. J. O'Neill.

The Second Ward Republican Club will meet at schnaider's Hall, on Chouteau and Mississippi avenues, at 8:30 o'clock to-morrow evening. Eight prominent speakers have volunteered to address the meeting.

Capt. Kiely reports a colored family, consisting of husband, wife and five children, in destitute circumstances at No. 3317 Blair avenue. Henry Christian, the husband, is sick and unable to provide for his family, and the oldest child is only ten years of age. The police give the Christians a good name and say they are worthy of assistance.

Mr. Jacob Friedman, the ticket broker, who has known the family for years said to day that such a report was entirely untrue and an injustice to the young lady.

"I am only sorry," he said "that Mr. Braggins is not here to deny it. It is time that Miss Braggins went to New York with her mother, but they did not go before consulting Mr. Braggins. At first he was averse to his daughter going on the professional stage," but he finally became convinced that her talents were all in that direction. Then he consented. Instead of leaving while he was in the Ind.au Territory they waited until he returned before doing anything. Mrs. Braggins was on the stage some years ago and did splendid emotional work under the stage name of Irene Tracy. Miss Braggins did some theatrical work as a child. She possesses much ability as a singer and an actress, and will unquestionably succeed. After her amateur work during the last engagement of Mr. Gilmore at the Exposition she pursued her studies closely at the Conservatory of Music and is now prepared to do splendid work."

Mr. Mark E. Lennon of the Farrar & Tate real estate firm is also an old friend of the family. He, too, denied the report that there was any runaway feature connected with the young lady's going to New York.

"Mr. Braggins knew all aboutit," he said, "and the ladies won over his consent." "Mr. Braggins knew all about it," he said,
"and the ladies won over his consent."
Miss Braggins will be remembered by thousands as one of Gilmore's favorites during the last Exposition.
She sang several times and figured as the "Goddess of Liberty" in one of the tableaux. She is a bright and pretty young lady, just passed 18 years of age, and is conceded much ability as a vocalist and actress.

John Manning Killed.

John Manning, a bartender, fell out of a third-story window at his home, No. 1812 Olive street, about 2 o'clock this morning and was dead when picked up a few minutes later. He was an unmarried man, 27 years old, and employed at P. T. Luckey's saloon No. 306 Chestnut street. Manning had been a No. 306 Chestnut street. Manning had been a barkeeper eight or ten years and was pretty well known in the city. He tended bar at one time for Peter O'Nelli at the Union Depot, and afterwards for Frank Angelo, opposite the Merchants' Exchange. He was also bartender for several months at the Lindell Hotel saloon. His father, Michael Manning, was a well-known hackman who died a short time ago. Manning tended bar in John Parie's saloon on Wainut street several years, and later started in business for himself, buying out the saloon kept for so many years on Eleventh and Chestnut streets, by Andy Parie. Manning's body is now at the Morgue. There is a big cut on one side of his head, and the supposition is that he fractured his skull. The inquest will be held this afternoon.

FROM WISCONSIN'S GOVERNOR. PECK BELIEVES THAT IT WILL PAY TO EDUCATE ON NATIONAL ISSUES. NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The following letter is

from Gov. Peck of Wisconsin:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER.
MADISON, Wis. Aug. 26, 1892.

Manager Western Democratic Campaign Fund:
Sir—I am in receipt of yours of the 19th, inclosing clippings from the WORLD. The effort which the WORLD and other papers in the East are making towards raising a Western campaign fund is very commendable, and most certainly heartily appreciated by the Democracy of the West. This money coming as it does from the newspapers ought, in my judgment, to be expended in educating the masses of the people on the national issue. Campaign literature of the right kind and assistance on the platform from some of the leading Democrats of the nation are what we need, and this fund which you are raising could be well expended in this direction.

The letters of Mr. Harrity to the Philadel-The letters of Mr. Harrity to the Philadelpnia Record and of Gov. Peck of Wisconsin to the World are inspired by the right spirit, the spirit in which the Western Democratic campaign fund was conceived. Mr. Harrity inclosed in his letter a check of $100 - and rightly said that the movement was to give the many thousands who cannot very well be reached by the committee, an opportunity to contribute to a fund to be used for the effective and aggressive campaign of education and organization in the diver was released.

WHAT $25,000 WILL DO. The Western Democratic campaign fund is approaching the $25,000 mark. This is only a beginning, but there are great potentialities of good even in that sum Twenty-five thousand dollars will pay the expenses of 250 Democratic meetings in Wisonsin and Illinois. It will supply every doubtful voter in the State with an effective campaign document or it will pay the expenses of a careful enrollment of the voters in preparation for the organ-ized work of the canvass. A campaign of edneation and awakening costs money, but a little goes a great ways in intelligent, zealous supervise the use of the Western fund. Give something to it now!

It was also said kirk fire. It was also said that Capt. Evans was gunning for Abe Slupsky to avenge his dismissal. Capt. Evans referred all inquiries relative to his dismissal to the officers of the association. Mr. C. F. Miller, Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Underwriters' Salvage Corps Association, denied the story emphatically. "There is absolutely no truth in it whatever," said he. Was not at his office, but his partner, Mr. Hemenway, stated that he was positive that Capt. Evans was not dismissed; that his conduct was satisfactory to the Executive Committee and to the underwriters, and that the rumors injurious to Capt. Evans were due to a certain element who have been ill-disposed toward him since the fire. Capt. Evans when asked about the other part of the story, namely, his evil intentions toward Mr. Slupsky, said that he was not looking for that zentieman. As he spoke he stood with his hands far back on his sides, thus throwing back his jaunty jacket and exposing to view a little something in his right hip pocket which would put Mr. Slupsky to sleep if he went on the war path for Capt. man, Park Commissioner Fechter, Harbor Southard of the Board of Public Improvements and honest hands. Such hands only will and went through that institution. It was not a regular investigating tour, but a special visit to learn if certain charges made correct. It was said that the 200 or more prisoners were poorly fed and that their meals were given to them in a most slovmanner; that many of them, both men and women, were without shoes, stockngs or proper clothing, and that they were compelled to sleep eight and ten in a room. As to their treatment it was stated that the guards were brutal in their manner towards the prisoners and on the slightest provocation they were put in the dungeon and whipped.

Supt. Lohrum was notified that he would receive a visit from the Board of Public Improvements this morning at 10 o'clock and there was any improvements to be made on the alleged order of things, there vas plenty of time to make them. committee called this morning and it was evident it did not come to find fault, as the nembers were very complimentary of everything they saw, and they could not be other wise after Mr. Lohrum's explanation priation was so small that all could not have shoes, and Mr. Lohrum was $500 in debt for shoes already. This sum would have to be paid out of a specia the institution does not allow prisoners to wear underclothes in summer. the men are given a suit and the women socks or stockings are given the prisoners week, as well as their outside clothes. No socks or stockings are given the prisoners, the Superintendent explained, because the appropriation was insufficient to provide them with such useful articles of wearing apparel. The sleeping quarters were horribly cramped. Four a we double cots with a two-story attachment, he seen in many of the cells, leaving barely enough room for the cells, leaving barely enough room for the cells, leaving barely enough room for the cells, leaving barely enough room small, while to bor hing is so old it is almost falling apart. Justhow a set of prisoners are engaged in making repairs, putting in new floors, fixing the plaster and whitening. In the women's building the conditions are not so bad. They have more room and sleep four in a cell.

The food to-day was remarkably good, and if the fare is the same every day the lawbreakers have no cause for complaint. At dinner vegetable soup was served, with a pound of bread and about four ounces of boiled beef. The meat was fresh and so was the bread, both being delivered daily. As to the charges of brutality, Mr. Lohrum said that prisoners were locked up in the guard-house and whipped sometimes but not often, and then it was only when a prisoner would obey no rules or work. They were made to acknowledge the rules of the institution.

Mr. Lohrum denied that his prisoners were made to go in dangerous places in the quarry. They went no place where a regularly employed quarryman would go. The prisoner whose leg was broken a few days ago, and who died at the hospital, was prying up a rock when a rock above it fell on him. Such an accident is liable to happen any time.

Tock when a rock above it fell on him. Such an accident is liable to happen any time. The committee, after making its rounds, expressed the opinion that there was no grounds for the charges against the Superintendent, and that he was doing the best he could with the money allowed him.

on Corbett, or any fraction of that amount down to $10 to $6. He continued: 'Sullivan is fighting under Queensbury rules the very style he wants, as all his other finish fights have been on the turf, where he has sunk into the sand pretty nearly up to his ankles, and has timed himself out carrying his heavy weight. He is a man of wonderful endurance, as was clearly shown when he fought over three hours with Kilrain in the broiling hot sun, while the spectators were almost suffocated with the heat, and they were merely looking on, and not taking any exercise whatever. He has Corbett just where he wants him, as there can be no drapping down business to kill time, but he will have to stand right up there the full three minutes in each round or else run away, and if he runs away God help him, for he will find that Sullivan can run as fast as he can, and he will get caught, and so soon that it will make his head swim."

THE WINNING COMBINATION. In turf circles past performances count for everything in determining a horse's chances for victory. In prize fighting the same rule holds. Knowing that many among its readers are utilizing a good deal of their spare time discussing the coming battles and their probable outcome, the Post DISPATCH publishes to-day the complete records of the six fighters who will face each other next Monday, rand Wednesday at New Orleans With the exception of Billy Myer none of the men who will take part in the puglistic carnival bave ever known defeat. When Sullivan enters the ring at New Or-When Sullivan enters the ring at New Orleans a week from to-night he will be nearly all years of age and in the twelfth year of his career in the ring. His record prosents one long unbroken series of victories. His first appearance outside of Boston was at Cincinnati in 1880, when he twice defeated John Donaldson, once in four rounds, the second time knocking his nan out in the tenth. He afterwards met and defeated Steve Taylor and John Flood. The latter fight was with bare knuckles and took place aboard a barge on the Ridson River. Joe Goss was heavy-weight champion at the time, having won it by disgraceful methods from Tom Allen of this city, who beat his opponent to ribbons. Sullivan boxed Goss at the latter's benefit and easily floored him. On Feb. 7, 1882, he put Paddy Ryan to sleep at Mississippl City, in nine rounds.

noored him. On Feb. 7, 1882, he put Paddy Ryan to sleep at Mississippi City, in nine rounds.

Sullivan was the first to discover that a sharp jarring blow on the point of a man's chin back of the jaw, would put him to sleep. This resulted in the introduction of his "knock out" business. Billy Madden invented the four-round set-to for his benefit and the champion made much fame and money for himself thereby. He stopped numberless men in this way during his travels over the country, but a good many first-class men escaped him. Among the latter were Tug Wilson, who by floor-crawling and hugging managed to stay out the allotted time. Charley Mitchell, Herbert Slade and Alf Greenfield were saved by police interference, Sullivan's poorest showing in a boxing match was with Dominick McCaffrey at thester Park, Cincinnati, in 1887. Sullivan asked for a decision on points at the end of the seventh round while his antagonist was still fresh and unbeaden. Sullivan's two great ring fights with bare knuckles with Charley Mitchell at Creel. France, on March 10, 1888, and with Jake Klirain at Richburg, Miss., in July, 1889, proved that Sullivan was not at his best as a bare-knuckle fighter. Mitchell by his generalship and sprinting tactics made the fight a draw after thirty-nine rounds. Klirain was whipped only after fours hours' intense fighting in the brolling sun. Sullivan has traveled, giving boxing exhibitions over nearly all the English-speaking world. His face is very familiar to people in this country through his theatrical ventures. Last summer the champion, growing testy over the newspaper attacks on him by Mitchell, Slavin, Corbett and others, issued a taunting and sweeping challenge. Peter Jackson had been barred on account of color and, to the surprise of everyone, none more than Sullivan, Corbett took him up. The present fight is the outcome.

than Sullivan, Corbett fook him up. The present fight is the outcome.

JAMES J. CORBETT.

Jim Corbett, the California heavy-weight, can show a clean record, and his victories have been notable, if not numerous. He drifted into puglism through his membership of the Olympic Athletic Club, where he showed so much cleverness with his dukes that he was prevalled upon to give up mercantile persulis and become boxing professor to the club. During the time he was an amateur he defeated flitten opponents. He beat Jim Dwyer in two rounds, J. Choynski in one round, two minutes; Tom Johnson, four rounds; Joe Choynski, two rounds; John Atchison, two rounds; Pete Hayes, five rounds; Joe Choynski, four rounds; Mike Brennan, three rounds; Frank Glover, four rounds; Capt. Daly, two rounds, and Prof. William Miller of Australia in six rounds.

His first battle in the professional arena was with Jack Burke, the "Irish lad," who stopped at 'Frisco on his way to Australia. The men boxed eight rounds at Mechanics' Pavilion. The police would allow no referee, so there was no decision except what the public gave and that was over-whelmingly in Corbett's favor. He then met all the heavy-weights along the slope, the only one of importance being Joe Choynski, who has since become a pugilist of national prominence. This mill was carried out in three sections. It was started in a barn, but the police interfeed and the scene of nostilities was transferred to the beach in front of the famous Chiff House. After another interruption the fight was fought to a finish on board a barge. Corbett were five-ounce gloves and in the third round broke both his hands on the stakes of the ring. he laid Choynski low in the twenty-seventh round.

This fight made his reputation national and he was offered a purse of $2,500 to box six rounds with Jake Kiriain at New Orleans. He accepted and easily proved himself the Baltimorean's master. The other good men he has met are boundack Mccaffrey, whom he bested in four rounds at Madison Square Garden, and Peter Jackson, the colored puglist. The latter mill took place refore the California Athletic Club and lasted sixty-one rounds, being declared no contest. This battle has been the subject of endless discussion, both men claiming their superiority and their anxiety to meet and settle the matter. But Corbett has shown no more anxiety than John L. to face Jackson. Among the men Corbett has met and defeated during his professional career are Payld Eismann, two rounds; James Daly, four rounds; Martin Costello, three rounds; Duncan McDonald of Butte City, four rounds, and Mise Brennan, four rounds.

Sullivan's large stomach and much has been said by the press, still it has not affected the betting in the least as Sullivan's friends are still loyal to him and their money is still allowed to go begging at the large odds of $100 to $60. That is the best evidence in the world that Sullivan is all right and in good shape to enter the ring.

Dick Toner, who is widely known as a trainer of prize fighters and a handler of game cocks and dogs, predicts a hot fight. He lives within about four miles of Corbett; training quarters, and he has spent considerable time with the tail Californian and is care in the world that it was Corbett's intention to stand right up and fight, and Corbett is of the opinion that he faster the big fellow fights, the better he will like it. Toner thinks Corbett an exceptionally good man, but by no means Sullivan's equal when it comes to hitting power.

Frank Stevenson, who refereed the Dempsey-Reagan fight and many other notable mills, says that he and Sullivan have been on the outs ever since the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, but that did not interfere in the least with sopinion, as he thinks sullivan is a different which is opinion, as he thinks sullivan is a different which is opinion, as he thinks sullivan is a different which is opinion, as he thinks sullivan is a different which is opinion, as he thinks sullivan is fighting the sullivan's equal keeps to be the sullivan-Kilrain fight, but that did not interfere in the least with sopinion, as he thinks sullivan is a different which is opinion, as he thinks sullivan is a different which was ever in before, and he has seen all his fights, even his battle in Europe with Charley Mitchell. Sullivan is fighting this time faily twenty pounds lighter than at any of his previous battles, is more active and can strike a quicker and harder blow. He sized both men up very thoroughly, and is more than pleased with Sullivan's appearance, and stands ready to be $1,000 to $600 the moment he can find a man willing to risk $500 on Cerbett, or any fraction of Myer's last battle was with Jimmy Carroll, whom he whipped decisively in forty-four rounds at the Olympic club, New Grleans.

Jack McAuliffe, Jack Dempsey and Jack Skelly are all graduates of the Paimer street cooperage. Brooklyn. When Jack Dempsey graduated into the middleweight class he left the lightweight championship to his chum. McAuliffe became a shining light in 'puglistic circles in 1884 by winning a light-weight boxing tournament in Madison square Garden. In February of the following year he won the 124-pound amateur championship of America from a long list of competitors. In March of the same year the New York Athletic Club offered a prize for the best of nine competitors in the lightweight class and Jack easily carried off the trophy. He carried off first honors in another tournament during the year and was thought good enough to be made a professional. A match was arranged between him and Jack Hopper. The battle took place Feb. 27, 1886, Jack finishing his opponent in seventeen rounds. In October of the same year he contested with Billy Frazier for the light-weight championship and secured his title to it in twenty-one rounds. In January, 1887, he went to Canada to meet Harry Glimore, who was at the zenith of his fame. The fight lasted for twenty-eight rounds, ending in McAuliffe's favor.

In March, 1887, Jem Carney, the noted English fighter, contested with him for championship honors and a purse of $5,600. The battle lasted five hours and was declared a draw at the end of the seventy-lourth round. battle lasted five hours and was declared a draw at the end of the seventy-fourth round. He next boxed ten rounds with Patsy Kerrigan, the affair being declared a draw. In October, 1858, Elliy Dacey went down before nim in eleven rounds. In December following he knocked out the Englishman, Jake Hyams, in nine rounds.

On Feb. 13, 1889, he fought his famous fight with Billy Myer at North Judson, Ind. with Enly Myer at North Judson, Ind. Ar ter fighting sixty-four rounds neither man was damaged and the contest was declared a draw. In April, 1889 he fought, fifteen rounds with the Bangor light-weight, Billy Daly. He was induced to enter the present match by President Noel of the Olympic Club. It is generally believed that the Olympic Club are putting up for the young light-weight. McAulife has led a careless life, but is a magnificent fighter.

SORRY FOR HER. SULLIVAN DISCUSSES MRS. CORBETT AND TELLS

HOW HE WILL WHIP JIM. NEW YORK, Aug. 31 .- At Phil Casey's home on De Graw street, Brook-John L. Sullivan was resting yesterday after two hours' work which was even harder than anything he has attempted since he began training. John had been down to the Star Theater rehearsing his part in "Capt. Harcourt, the Man From Boston." He looked more fatigued after the his part in "Capt. Harcourt, the Man From Boston." He looked more fatigued after the work than he does after his rope skipping and bag punching, if such a word as fatigue could be applied to the latter case.

In discussing Mrs. Corbett's remarks he laughed heartily and said: "She's a mighty nice little woman, but I must say that I'm sorry for her. When I was in San Francisco I had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. (orbett several times, and she struck me as being not only pretty but very bright as well. But I'm sorry for her, as I said before. Her husband will finish second in that fight just as sure as my name is Sullivan."

In spite of his profession of sympathy for Mrs. Corbett John talked as cooily about the licking he 'believes her husband is in for as he would talk about any everyday happening. A dozen men sat around him listening to every word he said and frequently casting admiring glances at the speaker. John has said very little about the fight during all the time he has been training, but he unbosomed himself yesterday to his friends, telling them just how he proposes to complete the job which is before him in New Orleans.

"This fellow won't light at first," John began. "I know he won't, but that will not make any difference. I'll fight, and fight struck a tornado. I'm told that he has been devoting much of his time to practicing 'getting away." That won't do him any good. He can't keep away from me, and I know it. "Corbett's a nice young fellow, I guess," the champion continued, "but, on the level, I think this job's the easiest one I ever had. I do really. Do I think it will be a long fight? I do not. Maybe it won't last two rounds, but there'll be plenty of fighting if it only lasts a minute."

"Do, you intend to follow Corbett if he should endeavort to make it a sorriting conlasts a minute."
"Do you intend to follow Corbett if he should endeavor to make it a sprinting contest?" was asked.
"I'll get to him, "fullwan answered, "and I'll get there good and strong. He can run or do whatever he likes."

WHAT DIXON CAN DO.

ING THE BLACK BOY'S POOR CONDITION. NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31 .- The condition of affairs at Dixon's training quarters at Biloxi belie the statements that have reached here during the past few days that Dixon was not in the condition his backers would like him to be. Dixon's headquarters are at the Kennedy cottage, an airy, commodious structure, within a few hundred yards of the gulf. When your correspondent reached the cot tage yesterday Dixon and Havlin had just returned from a ten-mile spin along the

ach. Dixon was dripping with perspiration and oked as though he bad been in a shower, ter a rest of several hours and he had sen given a shower bath, Dixon's dinner Dixon was dripping with perspiration and locked as though he had been in a shower. After a rest of several hours and he had been given a shower bath. Dixon's dinner was prepared. This meal consisted of lamb chops, rare stake, potatoes, tomato salad and lee cream and cake, and a cup of leed tea. Dixon ate with relish and has an appetite that many would envy. The meal over, Dixon lounged around until 3 o'clock, when the last part of the day's work began. Attired in a blue suit, Dixon and his trainer proceeded to the barn, where the bag was hung. Dixon's quarters are poorly equipped, having nothing but a punching bag for exercising purposes. When Dixon squared off to begin work he look as though he was facing an apponent. At first he played with the bag, hitting it short half-arm swings. After ten minutes of punching he began to warm up to his work. Dixon would come viciously to the bail bound up three and four times to the ceiling. He fought the ball for an hour, and his wind was as sound as though he had been doing scarcely anything. After punching the ball he began skipping with the dumb bells, an exercise which benefited him a great deal. A sait water bath followed, and he was then rubbed down by Fitzsimmons and Havilin. Dixon does very little boxing, and gives most of the time to road work and ball punching. Fitzsimmons, who saw Dixon exercise, said he was one of the best two-hanced boxers in the ring.

Dixon was assed to spar a few rounds so his prowess as a fighter could be better judged. A large and experienced fellow who has been assisting Bob Fitzsimmons was produced to furnish the set-to. Dixon, from the moment he donned the gloves until the bout was ended, fought like a whirlwind. His left found the faw of his opponent, and while not delivered with much force, it served to make him whose and move away in haste. Dixon's stops were neat and he cleverly avoided all rushes. Sometimes he would meet his opponent and check him suddenly, and would rush him before his man would recover, He is like sullivan in o

Dixon's pleasant ways have won him many friends in filloxi, and he is a great favorite in the betting. Jack Haviin and Manager O'Rourke are working like Trojans. Jack does the road work with Dixon and superintends the rubbing down process. O'Rourke spars with George and keeps him lively during the set-to. ing the set-to.

SKELLY'S LIKES AND DISLIKES.

N w ORLEANS, Aug. 21.—A New Orleans newspaper man asked Skelly yesterday what he liked best on earth. The plucky lightweight immediately repiled: "I like a little girl in Brocklyn better than anything else. I will bear her in mind when I get into the ring, and Dixon will have to do some tall hustling before he wins, if he does it at all. That purse is what I am after. I need it as I want to get married. It will give about 10) per cent additional force to my arm. Reading is a ravorite pastime of mine. My favorite author is Shakspeare, and I enjoy his works immensely. No, I do not hate any one in the world, and the only thing that I at present can think of is drinking. I hate that cordially, but do not find fault with any one else doing as he sees fit in the drinking in I may think wheat I please about.

ARMY OF THE JAMES.

Proposed Raunion of Four Army Corps Veterans. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31 .- The Runyon Committee of the Army of the James has issued a notice that on some day during the week of the Twenty-sixth National Encampment of the G. A. R. which will begin in this city Sept. 19, it is proposed to hold in one of the immense tents on Grand Army place a grand reunion of the survivors of those who at any time served in the Tenth. Eighteenth, Twenty-fourth and Twentyfifth Army corps, of those who at any time served in the Department of North Carolina, both during and after the troops there both during and after the troops there ceased to constitute the Eighteenth Corps of those who served in the Department of Virginia and in the Department of the South, in Peck's division of the Fourth Corps of the Army of the Potomac and in the naval brigade and in the North and South Atlantic blockading squadrons. For the purposes of this reunion and for greater convenience the committee having these matters in charge has decided to unite all these old organizations under the general title of "The Army of the James," Each corps will have its own appropriate corps, division and brigade headquarters tents in Grand Army place, each flying the familiar old colors, where the commades are all invited and expected to register their names and regiments or other commands, but the reunion proper will be held, as stated, under the general designation of "The Army of the James,"

Dr. Cook Is Missing.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 31.—Dr. James Cook, one of the founders of the Bennett Medical College, and for the last twenty-five years a practicing physician in Chicago, has been missing since Sunday, and his friends fear he has met with some serious harm. The police have been notified, and every effort to find trace of him has been futile. Inquiries were made at all the hospitals and the Coroner's office, but to no avail.

Pure and Wholesome Quality

Commends to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste, and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually, it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it is the best and only remedy.

It Is Not a Trust.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 31 .- A committee representing the manufacturers of sash, doors and blinds of the Northwest is in session at the Tremont House. The members of the committee deny that there is any intention of forming a new trust or of raising prices. They admit, however, that they are drawing up a new price list to which they will ask all manufacturers to agree.

IRELAND WILL NOT COME. Sensational Rumor That Caused Great

Amusement Among Catholics.

Great amusement was caused in Catholic circles to-day by a statement published in a morning paper to the effect that a prominent cclesiastic of this city had received a letter from a friend in Rome notifying him not to be surprised if he heard word of the transfer of Most Rev. John Ireland, Archbishop of St. Paul, to the coadjutorship at St. Louis. The prominent ecclesiastic did not discover himself this morning nor had he imparted his startling information to any of his brother ecclesiastics who, for divers reasons, keep themselves closely informed of all matters happening in the Eternal City relating to the affairs of the St. Louis diocese. The opinion was expressed that the report was circulated as a joke on the members of the Preister Verein, who would be anything but rejoiced to find that agressive American Dr. Ireland placed in charge of this diocese. Father Phelan, the editor of the Western Watchman, laughed heartily when asked if he had heard of the new candidate for the coadjutorship. "If there were anything in it would surely have heard of it long before this," he said, and then paused to pen an editorial paragraph to the effect that his readers would have to look hereafter to the columns of the secular press for religious news. at St. Louis. The prominent ecclesiastic his readers would have to look hereafter to the columns of the secular press for religious news.

A number of other clergymen seen this morning said the statement was too improbable to deserve any credence. The matter of charging an archibshop or bishop from one see to another is very unusual, almost unheard of, and when it occurs it is only for very weighty reasons and comes as a distinct promotion. There is but one instance of the kind in the history of the American hierarchy. Rt. Rev. John Cheverue, consecrated Bishop of Boston in 1810, was transferred to Montaubon. France, and thence to Bordeaux. He was Cardinal Archbishop of Bordeaux at the time of his death. Archbishop lreiand would not regard a transfer to the see of St. Louis in the light of a promotion. A priest from his diocese said this morning that the Archbishop would be strongly opposed to leaving the twin cities, and if any honors were to come to him they would have to come to him they would have to come to him at St. Faul. The idea that St. Louis is entitled to the cardinalate and that if Archbishop Ireland were transferred here he would wear the red hat is erroneous. The Archdiocese of St. Louis is not a popular locality in Rome for several reasons and besides the red hat is the reward of feality and devotion and is a personal honor not attached to any see.

Regarding the coadjutorship rumors to the effect that the local clergy are still agitating the matter are at variance with the real state of affairs. The matter is now in the hands of the Roman authorities and affairs here are at a standstill. Owing to the unwillingness of the Archbishop to move in the matter a full explanation of the situation was sent on to the Propaganda, and the request made that the senior suffragan bishop (Rt. Rev. John Hennessey of Rubuque) call the suffragan bishops together, to send on three names for consideration. Rome moves with proverbial slowness. Whether they will grant the petition will be definitely learned within a few months. If it is disregarded another slowness. Whether they will grant the petition will be definitely learned within a few months. If it is disregarded another petition will be sent on, signed by the priests of the dlocese, praying for the right of suffrage granted them under the decrees of the late Council of Baltimore, which, for reasons best known to the Ordinary, were not promulgated in this diocese.

MORERLY, Mo., Aus. 31.—A special train from Moberly, consisting of three crowded cars, left here yesterday bound for the big Democratic, meeting at Sedalia. Other cars were added to the train on the way. The regular passenger train followed, also crowded with many bound to the same point as the special. The third train was a big one, consisting of nine passenger coaches and a bagguse car. It came through from Hannibal but a great part of Monroe County was on board. There were many appropriate banners, and mottos and overflowing enthusiasm for the whole Democratic ticket.

Chicago Market Letter. Private wire to J. P. Grier.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—The wheat market has been moderately active to-day. The demand for eash lots rather slow and at lower prices, particularly for the lower grades. The active trading option now is Dec. It opened about 775ac sellers. Wheat is at avery low price but that is all that can be said in favor of huying it. The grades below No. 2 are selling from 52t of 65c and not in very urgent demand. The receipts are a little lighter at inmand at this. The receipts are a little lighter at inmand at this. The receipts are a little lighter at inmand at this of the control of th in favor of buying it. The grades below No. 2 are selling from 32c to 65c and not in very urgent demand at this. The receipts are a little lighter at interior points. They are still too heavy for the domand. The Government report due on the 10th prox. will likely reduce the previous estimates. It is does, we should have some little reaction upwards. But to give any permanent advance we require some better uying for export.

Foreign advices are steady in values, with unsettled weather delaying harvest. Corn is decidedly weak. Receipts are improving. Should this continue, prices will go lower.

Oats are steady and at present are the strongest cereal on the Board.

Liquidation in hop product was heavy.

Working People Complain About the Illumination Hours.

LIGHT UP LATER.

THEY WANT A FAIR CHANCE AT THE GREAT FALL FEATURE.

After Quitting Work It Is Difficult to Reach the Illuminated Districts From Their Homes in Good Time-They Appeal Through the "Post-Dispatch" -Chairman Wilkinson Explains.

ous letters from working people protesting against the hours set for the street illuminations as at present arranged by the Autumnal

The plea is earnestly advanced that, with the illumination beginning at 7 o'clock and ending at $:39 p. m., the working classes of St. Louis and vicinity are given but poor opportunity of witnessing these brilliant spectacles without having to undergo considerable apparantly unnecessary discomfort. The hours named are so early that it necessitates a scrambling rush from work to home, and from home and supper back to the illuminated district in order for working people to enjoy the great-est feature of the Fall Festivities.

An apparently heartfelt and general request seems to be voiced in these communications through the Post-Disparen, the almost unanimous idea being that from 8 until 9:30 o'clock would be the proper hours during which the street illumination displays should be made. The fact that the letters on this subject come from many different sources and sec-tions of the city strongly indicates that, un-wittingly, an injustice has been done in this respect. It also shows how deeply interested all St. Louisans are in this brilliant feature of the fall festivities programme.

DON'T WANT TO MISS IT.

The wage-earners of St. Louis evidently do not wish to miss the gorgeous spectacle now offered by the finest street illumination ever arranged in any carnival city of the world's history. The burden of their protest to the fail festivities management is a strong one.

"Give the workingman a chance," is what A study of the conditions under which thi request is made seems to support its fairness and moderation. It is a difficult thing for the people who work stated hours to enjoy the full benefit of the illuminations as at present arranged. There are many thousands of workers whose place of business is far from their homes. Many who live in South St. Louis find employment in North St. Louis, far from their homes. Many who live in South St. Louis find employment in North St. Louis, and vice versa. Some are fortunate enough to be able to quit work at 5 o'clock in the evening, but many more have to work until 6. Leaving factory or mill or workshop, comes the long "cross-town" journey home. Then the necessary "washing-up" and change of working clothes follows, and then comes supper. With the hours of illumination set for from 7 until 8:30 o'clock, these people have to "hustle" to be able to enjoy oven the "tall end" of the great display.

Were the hours set from 8 o'clock until 9:30, they would have a fair chance at it, and that's what every St. Louisan wants when it comes to enjoyment of the great St. Louisan tutumnal "pece de resistance." Their anxiety to secure it is in itself a flattering testimonial to the merits of the work.

Some of the Letters Received.

It is also argued that suburban St. Louisans would welcome the change of hours equally with the workers. All of which, with the accompanying letters, the Post-Dispatch recommends to the attention of the St. Louis Autumnal Festivities. Association, which doesn't want to deprive one solitary St. Louisan of his birthright of loyal enjoyment of the fall festivities. One letter reads as follows:

WEATHER AND CROPS. The Illinois Corn Crop Better Than Was

SPRINGFIELD, Ill .. Aug. 81 .- The weather and crop bulletin for the past week shows that the temperature has been about normal. The amount of sunshine for the week was about a seasonable average. The rainfall during the last seven days was slightly below the normal, being fairly well distributed. Corn prospects have improved slightly over last week. Early corn is ripening fast, and in most places is beyond the reach of rain. The pros pect for late corn has been considerably improved, according to a majority of correspondents, except in a few countles where spondents, except in a few counties where no rain fell. More rain and an absence of early frosts will make a fair yield. Wheat threshing has been continued during the week on account of the favorable weather, but is nearing completion. A few counties report threshing as being finished. The yield will be light and quality fair. No fall wheat sown yet. Oats threshing is far advanced; there seems to be no improvement in the yield. The potato crop is light.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 81.-A contest which has almost been lost sight of on account of the absorbing interest taken in the approaching pugilistic tournament in New Orleans, took place in the Pacific Athletic Club rooms last night before an audience of 2,500 persons. It was between the middle-weights, Alex Greggains of San Francisco and Martin Costello, more familiarly known to the sporting world as the "Buffalo," who is also an American, but who for the past five years has been in Australia. The purse was

The first round was tame, both men sizing the other up. Costello rushed and attempted a right swing, but missed. There were sev eral good exchanges in the second, third and ourth rounds, with honors about even. Costello opened the fifth round with a righthand swing on Greggains' jaw. The latter clinched and hot exchanges tollowed at close quarters. In the sixth both men swung their rights, but missed. A clinch followed and in the break-away Costello landed a good left. Just before the close of the round Greggains landed a light swing on Costello's neck.

From the seventh to the tenth round there was hot fighting. Costello had the best of the latter round, but in the eleventh Greg-

The long tramp was undertaken at the solicitation of Mr. Peter Burns, a millionaire liquor merchant of Seattle, who published an offer to bet $5,000 that he could find two people in the theatrical profession who could walk to Chicago from Seattle in six months. His bet was taken by a man in San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, who have done the song and dance in Pacific coast theaters, were selected to do the walking. If they won they were to get the money. A great change has been accomplished with in a week with any hope that he would run well in both of them. As he has grown older his stomach has become much sturdler, and now he is able to go through the season with extremely short intervals for races. At the time of the Champion stakes it was thought that the many contests through which he had passed had impaired his freshness and made him somewhat stale. But when he met Pessara not long afterward, at an advantage of one pound in the weights, he had no difficulty in beating the best horse in Walcott & Campbell's stables. While Raceland is a brilliant example of continued good form in a horse, Stockton is a dreadful illustration of the depth of degradation to which a thoroughbred which has at times manifested considerable ability and speed can descend. Some of his races at Monmouth Park have been almost incredibly bad.

averages to day than any member of the club excepting Glasscock and Carroll. In addition, however, Perry is one of those players that puts lots of ginger in his work. This is absolutely necessary to every club nowadays. It inspires and stead les the work of the youngsters and rouses the veterans at critical periods. That the Browns will miss Werden will hardly be doubted. Perry is already in demand. Washington wanted to sign him yesterday, but President Von der Ahe refused his consent to the deal, on the grounds that he was not engaged in strengthening the Browns' most immediate rivals. New York also wired Perry a splendid offer and the chances are he will be found with the Glants before the close of

be found with the Glants before the close of the present week. He stated yesterday that he had no idea who caused his release. "I was not expecting it," said the big first base-man, "and, of course, in consequence, it came like a thunder-ciap from a clear sky."

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

Billy Moran and Perry Werden witnessed yesterday's game.

Buck Ewing has kept up his slugging and retained his place as leading batsman, with an average of .397.

Jimmy Ryan's batting has been no small factor in Anson's recent victories. He is No. 5 with .342, and he and Delehanty are the first to make 50 hits.

Tom Brown had a fast batting streak last week, contributing in five games 18 hits in 28 times at bat, an average of .565. He made eight hits in the three Boston games.
